SOUTH JAPAN CATASTROPHE GROWS HOURLY

TIDAL WAVE FOLLOWED THE QUAKE HORROR

OFFICIAL REPORT SHOWS NEARLY 1,200 DEAD IN FIVE TOWNS

SEVERAL VILLAGES WIPED OUT WHEN FIRE FOLLOWED SHOCKS

Tokio, March 8.—(UP)—A tidal wave followed yesterday's earthquake in southern Japan and the loss of life was much higher than was at first supposed, official reports here today showed.

An official police report of the Kyoto prefecture showed nearly 1,200 dead in five towns, and reports from rural districts were expected to swell the total.

Several villages were reported wiped out when they were swept by fire after the tremor.

The casualty toll as reported from official and semi-official sources follows:

Minoyama, 1,000 dead, 600 injured.

Yamadamura, 60 dead.

Iwataki, 50 dead, 8 injured.

Osaka, 40 dead, 67 injured.

Ishikawamura, 23 dead, 31 injured.

Minoyama, Iwataki, Ishikawamura and Yamadamura were virtually wiped out. In Iwataki 890 buildings collapsed and fire broke out in the wreckage.

The long, narrow island of Honshu, main island of Japan, lies north and south for nearly two-thirds of its length, and then turns to an almost east-west position. It is shaped like a boomerang. The area hit most severely by the earthquake is in the lower part of the island, midway between its curve and the western tip. The island is about 75 miles wide at that point from Kobe on the south to Wakasa Bay on the north, and apparently most of that territory was devastated.

Except for Kyoto, Osaka and Kobe, there are few large cities in the region, which reduced the death list. Apparently the shock was less severe at Osaka than at towns to the north, as only 40 deaths were reported from there. Earlier reports told of the collapse of a motion picture theatre, burying 80 persons in the debris, and it was believed some of the deaths might have resulted from that accident.

Kyoto, which was believed to have suffered heavy damage, is an artistic and cultural center and once was the capital of Japan. The Amurube bridge there, longest and highest railroad bridge in the Orient, collapsed.

Destroyers with food and medical supplies were sent to the wrecked district.

Communication with many parts of the stricken area was broken by the quake, and reports of the disaster came in slowly to Tokio. No word had been received from the provinces of Tamba, Tango and Tajima, where it was feared great damage might have been done.

Osaka, Japan, March 8.—Whole towns were in ashes and desolation had been spread over a large area of Japan today by yesterday's earthquake, described by a correspondent who flew over the district as much more severe than that of 1923 which took a toll of 93,000 lives in Tokio and Yokohama.

Four hundred were killed in four cities alone, the correspondent reported.

Only the fact that no large cities were in the area hardest hit prevented a death toll rivaling that of the 1925 quake, it was believed.

A remarkable eye witness story of the desolation wrought by the tremor was brought to Osaka today by a member of the staff of the Osaka Mainichi, who flew over the district, which extends for 50 miles north of Kobe.

The Mainichi representative, named Wada, said the entire town of Minoyama was destroyed by fire. When he flew over, the flames threw a lurid light on the snow-covered outskirts of the little town, where stricken inhabitants shivered in the glow of the fire. Three hundred were killed and six hundred injured in Minoyama, Wada said.

Two-thirds of Kumihama was destroyed and thirty inhabitants killed. Survivors were running aimlessly about the beach when Wada flew over.

Sixty were killed at Iwataki. Flames followed the quake through out the stricken area. The tremor came at just 6 o'clock, when householders were preparing their even-

DESPERADOES BIND GIRL, PLACE HER BEFORE GAS JET

Redding, Calif., March 8.—(UP)—Bound to a chair and placed in front of an open gas jet, 14 year old Elizabeth Ames was left to die by two men who had been refused food when they called at the home.

The girl was alone when the intruders, apparently bent on revenge, stuffed papers in cracks about the room so that the gas would take effect.

A brother, returning from school late yesterday, discovered the girl's plight. She had been unconscious for two hours, but revived when carried outside the house.

Search was started for the men by Sheriff Sublett.

300 HOMES ARE ISOLATED BY FLOOD WATERS

TORRENTIAL RAINS CAUSE RIVER AT DALLAS, TEXAS, TO RISE

SPREADS MILE IN WIDTH, SOUTH DALLAS STREETS UNDER WATER

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—(UP)—Three hundred homes near the banks of the Trinity river still were isolated by high water early today after having been abandoned yesterday.

Torrential rains caused the river to spread to a width of more than a mile and residential streets in South Dallas were made impassable by the deep water. First floors of homes and small business buildings were flooded. Property damage has been heavy.

Police and firemen were pressed into service to rescue the families who were threatened by the flood waters, and no loss of life has been reported.

ing meals over the tiny stoves used in Japan. The stoves were knocked over in many cases, setting fire to flimsy houses, and the inhabitants were too frightened to attempt to fight the flames.

Toyooka, which was destroyed by the 1923 quake, was undamaged this time, Wada reported.

From his plane, he could see destroyers were speeding to the stricken coast, he said.

London, March 8.—The Japanese naval base at Malzuru and the villages of Myazuchio, Yamadaka and Yacho were in flames after yesterday's earthquake, the Tokio correspondent of the Daily Express reported today.

WOMAN KILLED WHEN LANDING STAGE BROKE

Tokio, March 8.—The woman killed when a landing stage crowded with passengers from the around-the-world liner California collapsed at Kobe during yesterday's earthquake, was identified today as Mrs. Glen-Schultz.

Nearly all the passengers on the California were Americans.

Seven other passengers were injured, including a Mrs. Stewart. The names of the others were not learned.

No passengers on the Express of Scotland, also docked at Kobe, were injured.

New York, March 8.—An official passenger list of the Cunard-Anchor liner California, which left New York on Jan. 19 for a cruise around the world, gives the name of Mrs. Jessie Glen-Schultz as one of those sailing. Her address was not given.

CLAIM 1,600 KILLED IN MARITIME PROVINCES

Tokio, March 8.—A staff member of Nippon Dempo, the Japan telegraphic agency, telegraphed today from Miyazu on the Japan sea that approximately 1,600 persons had been killed in the maritime provinces by Monday's earthquake. He estimated that 6,500 houses had been demolished by the quake and that 2,000 houses had been destroyed by fire in the maritime area.

The Nippon Dempo correspondent visited several cities in the area in compiling his figures.

WEEPAH FIELD MAY BE RICHEST IN WHOLE WEST

ALL EXCITEMENT AND CONFUSION OF PIONEER DAYS IN MINING TOWN

GOLD BONANZA TOWN LOCATED 37 MILES WEST OF TONAPAH

Tonapah, Nev., March 8.—(UP)—All the excitement and confusion of pioneer mining days reigned today in Weepah, gold bonanza town 37 miles west of Tonapah.

Since the first gold-strike—of ore said to assay $78,000 a ton—was made by two youths two weeks ago, a tented city has sprung up to house the hundreds of tenderfoot and sourdoughs who rushed to the district to stake their claims.

General confusion has resulted from the widespread and indiscriminate staking. Adding to the confusion was the announcement of Frank Horton, father of one of the boys making the strike, that most of the staked ground formerly belonged to him and that he still has the right to redeem it.

New arrivals today were staking out plots and digging location holes eight to ten miles in every direction from the first claim.

Mining men, verifying reports of the richness of the strike, declared that the Weepah field probably would prove the richest ever discovered in the west.

I. C. C. IN DECISION

ON GRAIN, OTHER RATES IN WEST

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today held out no justified proposed changes in rates—mainly increased rates on grain, including flaxseed and grain products—from, to, and between points in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois, to certain larger terminal markets.

The commission, however, reserved for decision in connection with its general rate structure investigation on grain and products certain complaints as to reasonableness of grain and grain products rates from North and South Dakota to Minneapolis, Duluth and other markets.

These complaints also included charges that North Dakota was prejudicially influenced by the rate adjustment from Minnesota points to Duluth and Minneapolis.

U. S. ARMY FLIERS

DEPART FOR BRAZIL

Montevideo, March 8.—(UP)—The United States army's Pan-American flight squadron departed today for Port Alegre, Brazil, at 10:20 a. m.

The take-off was delayed when the San Francisco, one of three remaining planes, struck a submerged rock in the shallows off Ramirez beach. After an hour of repair work, during which a protection plate was placed beneath the plane, the squadron got away.

Yesterday the take-off was prevented when the San Francisco was forced to alight by engine failure.

RIVER CRAFT SPLASH IN THE MISSISSIPPI

Red Wing, Minn., March 8.—(UP)—River craft splashed into the Mississippi today as ice broke up at the earliest date in many years. Motor boats, launches, row boats and canoes were eagerly shoved into the waters following their long hibernation.

River-men had not expected the ice in the "Father of Waters" to move out until the middle of March and were quick today to forecast an early spring.

KNOBEL, ARK., REBELS AGAINST HICKORY STICK

Knobel, Ark., March 8.—(UP)—A civil uprising that seriously disturbed the quiet demeanor of this little town had subsided today and Knobel has an entirely new staff of school teachers who don't keep peach tree limbs in their desk drawers.

School children and the teachers had come to swords points and the whipping of a boy last week who was thought to have played hockey and three girls who sympathized with him hastened a climax to the dissatisfaction which had aroused the parents.

As a result, the jury of townspeople decided that Prof. E. L. Briggs, the superintendent, and all of his staff of three teachers believed too strongly in the hickory stick method of control, and not only dismissed the rigid disciplinarian but advised him to leave town.

A new principal and new teachers have arrived to meet the emergency, and Knobel's school bell rang again today.

NEW RADIO

DIVISION CREATED BY SEC. HOOVER

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—A new radio division, to cooperate with the recently created Radio commission, was established by Secretary of Commerce Hoover today.

William D. Terrell, Galansville, Va., was named chief of the division. Federal officials have informed President Coolidge that the new Federal Radio commission will be able to carry on its work this summer despite the failure of congress to pass the second deficiency bill appropriating funds for that purpose.

Funds already are appropriated for radio regulation and the president believes these may be used for the new commission.

DOVE OF PEACE SAID TO HOVER OVER ALL CHINA

London, March 8.—(UP)—An Exchange Telegraph Shanghai dispatch today said peace negotiations between Chinese militarists to bring all combatants except Chang Tso-Lin into alliance with the Cantonese nationalists were expected to begin soon.

The war front was quiet, according to the dispatch, although there had been desultory skirmishes in which looters generally had been on one side and soldiers on the other.

Well informed opinion at Shanghai, according to the Exchange Telegraph, thought only Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian militarist, would be able to remain outside the nationalist alliance.

DIAMOND RINGS LIE ON STREETS OF MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, March 8.—(UP)—Diamond rings lay on the streets today following a robbery wherein a jewelry store window was smashed and nearly $1,000 worth of trinkets taken.

Police were informed of the robbery of the White and McNaught jewelry store, when a woman reported finding three rings on the sidewalk. A piece of bearskin found near the store apparently had been used to muffle sound of broken glass.

KISSES FRUSTRATE HOLDUP MAN

Brockton, Mass., March 8.—(UP)—Kisses frustrated a holdup here. When a bandit entered his store and demanded money, Sam Adelman became so excited that he kissed him on the cheek. The holdup man was so surprised that he left empty-handed. Adelman was so pleased that he chased the bandit and kissed him again before he got away.

EXPECTED TO CAUSE ARGUMENT IN THE HOUSE

IS RADICAL DEPARTURE FROM EXISTING LAWS

GENERAL OPENING OF FISHING SEASON FOR WHOLE STATE JUNE 15

St. Paul, March 8.—(UP)—An omnibus game and fish bill was under consideration in the house of representatives committee today which, by its radical departure from existing laws, is expected to cause lively arguments when reported out to house members.

J. F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, prepared the bill, which was expected to be changed in many respects by the committee.

The committee today indicated that among the changes would be the following:

Elimination of fishing zones.

Opening the season for fishing all over the state on June 15, except for muskellunge, wall-eyed pike and pickerel, which would open May 15.

Closing the season on Feb. 1.

Ban ice fishing.

Ban spearing of game fish.

Limit hunters to five prairie chickens, shorten the season and permit hunting every year.

Hannah J. Kempfer, committee chairman, urged that hunting with dogs be stopped. She also urged a ban on the using of live decoys in duck hunting.

Mrs. Kempfer predicted that unless conservation were practiced, all hunting would be restricted during five to ten year periods while thousands of dollars would be spent to replenish game stocks.

P. H. RAHILLY CELEBRATES HIS 95TH BIRTHDAY

Lake City, Minn., March 8.—(UP)—Patrick H. Rahilly, one of Minnesota's "grand old men," celebrated his 95th birthday here today.

The pioneer, who came here nearly 10 years before the civil war, first settled at Rochester when that now famous city was marked by a lone log cabin.

In the years which followed he served five terms in the state legislature, three times elected representative and twice chosen state senator.

Recognized by the Catholic church as a zealous worker, Rahilly was decorated with the knighthood of the Order of St. Gregory, by Pope Pius XI, in 1925.

Rahilly was surrounded today by old cronies and relatives while from all over the northwest came messages and letters bearing good wishes.

CHARGED WITH LASHING EDITOR

Sopherton, Ga., March 8.—(UP)—Charged with participating in the flogging of H. M. Landers, editor of the Sopherton News, Sheriff W. L. Thigpen, Treutlen county, George, Joe Lee and Henry McLendon are under arrest here today and held under $3,000 bond.

Landers was beaten into insensibility by a band of hooded men on Feb. 25 because of alleged activities in a newspaper campaign against bootlegging rings. Arresting officers refused to disclose their evidence against the sheriff and the two men.

TWO SUFFOCATED, 14 BURNED IN COLUMBUS FIRE

Columbus, O., March 7.—(UP)—Two persons were suffocated and 14 others were burned in a fire which early today swept a building of stores and apartments adjoining the state office building. The victims of the flames were Mrs. Carrie Vance Sommers and her son, Addison Vance, 18.

FORTY SCHOOL BOYS CHARGED WITH GAMBLING

Taylorville, Ill., March 8.—(UP)—Charged with gambling for stakes sometimes reckoned in three figures, 40 school boys ranging in age from 13 to 18 years, are under arrest here.

All but two of the youths are at liberty on their own recognizance. Cland Walters and Frank Moody, charged with running the dice game, were forced to give bond.

According to Chief of Police E. Williams the game has been operating for some time with winnings by a single youth in one game often exceeding $100.

U. S., BRITAIN AND JAPAN 3 POWER PACT

DEFINITE INFORMAL NEGOTIATIONS SO TENDING NOW UNDER WAY

3 POWER CONFERENCE, IF FORMED, TO LIMIT AUXILIARY NAVAL CRAFT

By LUDWELL DENNY

(United Press Staff Correspondent) Washington, March 8.—Definite informal negotiations have been initiated by the United States with Great Britain and Japan for a three-power conference limiting auxiliary naval craft.

The new Coolidge plan, exclusively reported by the United Press on Feb. 12, is now urged upon Great Britain and Japan as a result of French and Italian rejection of the original Coolidge five-power pact proposal.

Following Great Britain's and Japan's acceptance of the five-power proposal, they are now understood to be willing to continue informal negotiations which may lead to a three-power conference, possibly next summer.

The conference will not be called, however, unless its success seems assured as a result of the advance negotiations.

Present discussions reveal certain obstacles. Great Britain is apparently willing to accept parity with the United States in auxiliary craft, but insists this be attained by increasing the number of American cruisers rather than by reducing Britain's present cruisers strength.

Japan desires a larger auxiliary ratio for herself than there is in the five-five-three capital ship ratio of the Washington treaty, which President Coolidge has suggested as also a proper ratio for auxiliary craft.

Britain further hesitates to limit her cruiser and other anti-submarine strength while France refuses to limit submarines.

A possible way out of this difficulty is said to be a clause in the proposed three-power treaty providing tonnage revision to meet possible French increases.

President Coolidge authorized a statement through his spokesman today confirming United Press reports that this government has made the informal inquiries of Great Britain and Japan regarding a three-power naval conference.

Tentative responses from those two governments encourage the president to think that some action in this direction may be practicable, the White House spokesman said.

POST MORTEM TO DETERMINE CAUSE OF PROFESSOR'S DEATH

Minneapolis, March 8.—(UP)—A post-mortem examination today was expected to reveal the cause of the death of Dr. Fredric J. Souba, member of the University of Minnesota medical staff, whose lifeless body was found in his office late Tuesday.

Dr. Souba, who was 41 years old, had not been ill in the 10 years he had been on the university staff.

Miss Amy Sargent, the physician's office girl, discovered the body on the floor of his office upon her return from an errand late in the afternoon. The only mark on the body was a small wound back of the right ear which might possibly have been inflicted by a desk or table during the fall to the floor.

FINED $5,000, 18 MONTHS JAIL SENTENCE

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY IN CONNECTION WITH RETURN OF ALIEN PROPERTY

LATTER OWNED BY CERTAIN GERMANS AND SWISS NAMED

New York, March 8.—(UP)—Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian in the Harding administration, was sentenced by Judge John C. Knox today to serve 18 months in the penitentiary and fined $5,000 for conspiracy in connection with the return to German and Swiss owners of seized alien property.

Miller was convicted late last week after a long trial in which he and former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty were jointly accused. The jury was unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of Daugherty, and the indictment against him was dismissed on the motion of the government.

The maximum sentence which could have been imposed upon Miller was two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Miller served as alien property custodian for a long period after appointment by President Harding. While in office, $7,000,000 assets of the American Metal Company were returned to Richard Merton of Frankfurt, Germany, and associates. Merton testified that he paid $441,000 in commissions to the late John T. King to bring about the return of the assets.

The jury found that some of this money had found its way into Miller's bank account, and that he had failed to give his best services to the government in the case.

ILLEGAL SCHEME TO GAIN REALTY COMES TO LIGHT

Chicago, March 8.—(UP)—A scheme whereby John J. Stelk, a former Chicago judge, was to come into illegal possession of $500,000 worth of real estate in Chicago and suburbs was exposed today.

Stelk, a recognized authority on real estate law, was taken into custody on a charge of forgery and was said by authorities to have admitted the plot.

Stelk's scheme, the state's attorney's office explained, was to force deeds to tax-delinquent property and then file judgment suits in behalf of the fictitious persons whose names he had forged to the deeds. The judgments were "confessed" by an imaginary real estate firm, the property would be turned over to the sheriff for sale, and Stelk would buy it.

200 DEER NEAR STARVATION IN MICHIGAN SECTION

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., March 8.—(UP)—With the finding of a number of dead fawns and a report from Hulbert, near here, that 200 deer are near starvation, sportsmen today appealed to Leigh Young, state director of conservation, for aid.

The branch of a small tree, gnawed at one end, was sent to Young to convince him the deer are eating thick limbs to ward off starvation. An appeal to the state to furnish hay for the animals also was made.

BIG LINER LOSES WAY IN FOG OF N. Y. HARBOR

New York, March 8.—(UP)—The Hamburg-American liner Deutschland lost her bearings in the heavy fog over New York harbor today and ran aground on a reef. The liner, with 1,000 passengers aboard, was held fast for 40 minutes.

Two tugs pulled off the Deutschland and she continued to her pier.

Among the notables aboard were Sir Wyndham Henry Doodes, Mrs. William Furtwaengler, wife of the orchestra conductor, and the Baroness Gerta von Bissing and Baroness von Schroeder.

DIAMOND RINGS LIE ON STREETS OF MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, March 8.—(UP)—Diamond rings lay on the streets today following a robbery wherein a jewelry store window was smashed and nearly $1,000 worth of trinkets taken.

Police were informed of the robbery of the White and McNaught jewelry store, when a woman reported finding three rings on the sidewalk.

A piece of bearskin found near the store apparently had been used to muffle sound of broken glass.

KISSES FRUSTRATE HOLDUP MAN

Brockton, Mass., March 8.—(UP)—Kisses frustrated a holdup here.

When a bandit entered his store and demanded money, Sam Adelman became so excited that he kissed him on the cheek.

The holdup man was so surprised that he left empty-handed.

Adelman was so pleased that he chased the bandit and kissed him again before he got away.

EXPECTED TO CAUSE ARGUMENT IN THE HOUSE

IS RADICAL DEPARTURE FROM EXISTING LAWS

GENERAL OPENING OF FISHING SEASON FOR WHOLE STATE JUNE 15

St. Paul, March 8.—(UP)—An omnibus game and fish bill was under consideration in the house of representatives committee today which, by its radical departure from existing laws, is expected to cause lively arguments when reported out to house members.

J. F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, prepared the bill, which was expected to be changed in many respects by the committee.

The committee today indicated that among the changes would be the following:

Elimination of fishing zones.

Opening the season for fishing all over the state on June 15, except for muskellunge, wall-eyed pike and pickerel, which would open May 15.

Closing the season on Feb. 1.

Ban ice fishing.

Ban spearing of game fish.

Limit hunters to five prairie chickens, shorten the season and permit hunting every year.

Hannah J. Kemper, committee chairman, urged that hunting with dogs be stopped. She also urged a ban on the using of live decoys in duck hunting. Mrs. Kemper predicted that unless conservation were practiced, all hunting would be restricted during five to ten year periods while thousands of dollars would be spent to replenish game stocks.

P. H. RAHILLY CELEBRATES HIS 95TH BIRTHDAY

The pioneer, who came here nearly 10 years before the civil war, first settled at Rochester when that now famous city was marked by a lone log cabin.

In the years which followed he served five terms in the state legislature, three times elected representative and twice chosen state senator.

Recognized by the Catholic church as a zealous worker, Rahilly was decorated with the knighthood of the Order of St. Gregory, by Pope Pius XI, in 1925.

Rahilly was surrounded today by old cronies and relatives while from all over the northwest came messages and letters bearing good wishes.

CHARGED WITH LASHING EDITOR

Sopherton, Ga., March 8.—(UP)—Charged with participating in the flogging of H. M. Landers, editor of the Sopherton News, Sheriff W. L. Thigpen, Treutlen county, George, Joe Lee and Henry McLendon are under arrest here today and held under $3,000 bond.

Landers was beaten into insensibility by a band of hooded men on Feb. 25 because of alleged activities in a newspaper campaign against bootlegging rings. Arresting officers refused to disclose their evidence against the sheriff and the two men.

TWO SUFFOCATED, 14 BURNED IN COLUMBUS FIRE

Columbus, O., March 7.—(UP)—Two persons were suffocated and 14 others were burned in a fire which early today swept a building of stores and apartments adjoining the state office building.

The victims of the flames were Mrs. Carrie Vance Sommers and her son, Addison Vance, 18.

FORTY SCHOOL BOYS CHARGED WITH GAMBLING

Taylorville, Ill., March 8.—(UP)—Charged with gambling for stakes sometimes reckoned in three figures, 40 school boys ranging in age from 13 to 18 years, are under arrest here.

All but two of the youths are at liberty on their own recognizance. Claud Walters and Frank Moody, charged with running the dice game, were forced to give bond.

According to Chief of Police E. Williams the game has been operating for some time with winnings by a single youth in one game often exceeding $100.

U. S., BRITAIN AND JAPAN 3 POWER PACT

DEFINITE INFORMAL NEGOTIATIONS SO TENDING NOW UNDER WAY

3 POWER CONFERENCE, IF FORMED, TO LIMIT AUXILIARY NAVAL CRAFT

By LUDWELL DENNY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 8.—Definite informal negotiations have been initiated by the United States, with Great Britain and Japan for a three-power conference limiting auxiliary naval craft.

The new Coolidge plan, exclusively reported by the United Press on Feb. 12, is now urged upon Great Britain and Japan as a result of French and Italian rejection of the original Coolidge five-power pact proposal.

Following Great Britain's and Japan's acceptance of the five-power proposal, they are now understood to be willing to continue informal negotiations which may lead to a three-power conference, possibly next summer.

The conference will not be called, however, unless its success seems assured as a result of the advance negotiations.

Present discussions reveal certain obstacles. Great Britain is apparently willing to accept parity with the United States in auxiliary craft, but insists this be attained by increasing the number of American cruisers rather than by reducing Britain's present cruisers strength.

Japan desires a larger auxiliary ratio for herself than there is in the five-five-three capital ship ratio of the Washington treaty, which President Coolidge has suggested as also a proper ratio for auxiliary craft.

Britain further hesitates to limit her cruiser and other anti-submarine strength while France refuses to limit submarines.

A possible way out of this difficulty is said to be a clause in the proposed three-power treaty providing tonnage revision to meet possible French increases.

President Coolidge authorized a statement through his spokesman today confirming United Press reports that this government has made the informal inquiries of Great Britain and Japan regarding a three-power naval conference.

Tentative responses from those two governments encourage the president to think that some action in this direction may be practicable, the White House spokesman said.

POST MORTEM TO DETERMINE CAUSE OF PROFESSOR'S DEATH

Minneapolis, March 8.—(UP)—A post-mortem examination today was expected to reveal the cause of the death of Dr. Fredric J. Souba, member of the University of Minnesota medical staff, whose lifeless body was found in his office late Tuesday.

Dr. Souba, who was 41 years old, had not been ill in the 10 years he had been on the university staff.

Miss Amy Sargent, the physician's office girl, discovered the body on the floor of his office upon her return from an errand late in the afternoon. The only mark on the body was a small wound back of the right ear which might possibly have been inflicted by a desk or table during the fall to the floor.

FINED $5,000, 18 MONTHS JAIL SENTENCE

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY IN CONNECTION WITH RETURN OF ALIEN PROPERTY

LATTER OWNED BY CERTAIN GERMANS AND SWISS NAMED

New York, March 8.—(UP)—Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian in the Harding administration, was sentenced by Judge John C. Knox today to serve 13 months in the penitentiary and fined $5,000 for conspiracy in connection with the return to German and Swiss owners of seized alien property.

Miller was convicted late last week after a long trial in which he and former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty were jointly accused. The jury was unable to agree on the guilt or innocence of Daugherty, and the indictment against him was dismissed on the motion of the government.

The maximum sentence which could have been imposed upon Miller was two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Miller served as alien property custodian for a long period after appointment by President Harding. While in office, $7,000,000 assets of the American Metal Company were returned to Richard Merton of Frankfurt, Germany, and associates. Merton testified that he paid $441,000 in commissions to the late John T. King to bring about the return of the assets.

The jury found that some of this money had found its way into Miller's bank account, and that he had failed to give his best services to the government in the case.

ILLEGAL SCHEME TO GAIN REALTY COMES TO LIGHT

Chicago, March 8.—(UP)—A scheme whereby John J. Stelk, a former Chicago judge, was to come into illegal possession of $500,000 worth of real estate in Chicago and suburbs was exposed today.

Stelk, a recognized authority on real estate law, was taken into custody on a charge of forgery and was said by authorities to have admitted the plot.

Stelk's scheme, the state's attorney's office explained, was to force deeds to tax-delinquent property and then file judgment suits in behalf of the fictitious persons whose names he had forged to the deeds. The judgments were "confessed" by an imaginary real estate firm, the property would be turned over to the sheriff for sale, and Stelk would buy it.

200 DEER NEAR STARVATION IN MICHIGAN SECTION

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., March 8.—(UP)—With the finding of a number of dead fawns and a report from Hultbert, near here, that 200 deer are near starvation, sportsmen today appealed to Leigh Young, state director of conservation, for aid.

The branch of a small tree, gnawed at one end, was sent to Young to convince him the deer are eating thick limbs to ward off starvation. An appeal to the state to furnish hay for the animals also was made.

BIG LINER LOSES WAY IN FOG OF N. Y. HARBOR

New York, March 8.—(UP)—The Hamburg-American liner Deutschland lost her bearings in the heavy fog over New York harbor today and ran aground on a reef. The liner, with 1,060 passengers aboard, was held fast for 40 minutes.

Two tugs pulled off the Deutschland and she continued to her pier. Among the notables aboard were Sir Wyndham Henry Doodes, Mrs. William Furtwaengler, wife of the orchestra conductor, and the Baroness Gerta von Blissing and Baroness von Schroeder.

Rev. J. R. Michaelson Delivers Interesting Address to Ministers

ON SCANDINAVIAN LITERATURE

Ibsen Rejected Optimism on Ground It Was Akin to Materialism

At the Brainerd Minister's association meeting last Monday the chief interest centered in the paper by Rev. J. R. Michaelson on Henrik Ibsen, the Norse dramatist. The paper was really an introduction to Scandinavian literature through the life-story, personality and influence of Ibsen as a poetic dramatist.

Ibsen's poetical activity falls into three periods, first, the period of the historic drama; second, the period of the dramatic poem; and third, the period of the social play. During the first period Ibsen was neglected although he gave glimpses of himself as a creator of a new era in Norse poetry. During the second period he produced that prodigious poem, "Brand" which made him the chief poet and pride of Scandinavia. During the third period he produced such social plays as "The Pillar of Society," and "The Doll House," which attracted the attention of the world at large.

If Ibsen appears harsh and severe to some it was due to condition of times in which men were taught to believe that wrath, penalties and war were the cures of the world's ills. He rejected the popular brand of optimism on the ground that it was akin to materialism. Truly, that which enthralled and even appeals us in Ibsen is his penetrating, searching judging power, somber, to be sure for Ibsen defined the poet as one who holds doomday over himself. He held doomday over Scandinavia, not necessarily over thieves, harlots and philistines but over respectable society landholders, educators, ministers.

The paper showed up the great need and the high values to the ministers of today in knowing the literature of the nations, for as Rev. Michaelson said, "If we do not understand our task as ministers it is because we do not understand our fellow men, so it is also true that we cannot understand humanity in the large until we know the literature of mankind."

Three visitors were presented and took part in the discussion.

C. B. Lyon of Minneapolis, a lay-speaker at the Sunday services in St. Paul's church was present and addressed the ministers on knowing their task. Rev. A. Paulson former pastor of the Swedish Baptist church renewed his fellowship with the members of the association. Mrs. Henry I. Cohen and Mrs. W. C. Cobb whose well known interest in literature, travel and the plays of Ibsen made them interested and welcome guests.

HEARS SPUTTERING AND TOSSES BOMB FROM HIS HOME

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—(UP)—Awakened by the sputtering of the fuse in an explosive bomb, Jack Barr saved the lives of his wife and child and his own, early today when he smothered the fuse and hurled the machine out of the window.

It was the fourth bomb that has been planted in Dallas homes within a month. One exploded Monday on the porch of a home and set fire to it. No one has been killed.

Barr could assign no reason for the attempt to wipe out his family and himself, except that he had been having some trouble with his employees.

The bomber had opened the door leading into the bedroom, where Barr, his wife and baby slept, and planted the machine in the bed between them.

During the first period Ibsen was neglected although he gave glimpses of himself as a creator of a new era in Norse poetry. During the second period he produced that prodigious poem, "Brand" which made him the chief poet and pride of Scandinavia. During the third period he produced such social plays as "The Pillar of Society," and "The Doll House," which attracted the attention of the world at large.

If Ibsen appears harsh and severe to some it was due to condition of times in which men were taught to believe that wrath, penalties and war were the cures of the world's ills. He rejected the popular brand of optimism on the ground that it was akin to materialism. Truly, that which enthralled and even appeals us in Ibsen is his penetrating, searching judging power, somber, to be sure for Ibsen defined the poet as one who holds doomsday over himself. He held doomsday over Scandinavia, not necessarily over thieves, harlots and philistines but over respectable society landholders, educators, ministers.

The paper showed up the great need and the high values to the ministers of today in knowing the literature of the nations, for as Rev. Michaelson said, "If we do not understand our task as ministers it is because we do not understand our fellow men, so it is also true that we cannot understand humanity in the large until we know the literature of mankind."

Three visitors were presented and took part in the discussion.
C. B. Lyon of Minneapolis, a lay-speaker at the Sunday services in St. Paul's church was present and addressed the ministers on knowing their task. Rev. A. Paulson former pastor of the Swedish Baptist church renewed his fellowship with the members of the association. Mrs. Henry I. Cohen and Mrs. W. C. Cobb whose well known interest in literature, travel and the plays of Ibsen made them interested and welcome guests.

HEARS SPUTTERING AND TOSSES BOMB FROM HIS HOME

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—(UP)—Awakened by the sputtering of the fuse in an explosive bomb, Jack Barr saved the lives of his wife and child and his own, early today when he smothered the fuse and hurled the machine out of the window.

It was the fourth bomb that has been planted in Dallas homes within a month. One exploded Monday on the porch of a home and set fire to it. No one has been killed.

Barr could assign no reason for the attempt to wipe out his family and himself, except that he had been having some trouble with his employees.

The bomber had opened the door leading into the bedroom, where Barr, his wife and baby slept, and planted the machine in the bed between them.

CONFERENCE ON LAKE LEVELS HERE

Congressman Harold Knutson Interests Major Williams in Matter

RIVERS AND HARBORS ACT

Carries Item Authorizing Preliminary Examination be Made

One of the big things in Northern Minnesota is keeping lake levels at proper stages. Congressman Harold Knutson through petitioning of many resort owners, lake property owners, tourists, towns and cities in this section, and other interests, has interested himself in the question and informs Brainerd people that "Under date of March 2 District Engineer R. C. Williams writes and calls my attention to an item in the Rivers and Harbors Act, of January 21, 1927, which authorizes the following preliminary examination:

"Headwaters of the Mississippi River, with a view to maintaining a minimum fixed head of water in all of the channels of this system at all times.

"Major Williams says that in view of the fact that I introduced the item in the bill he would like to secure from me an idea as to the scope of the examination.

"He states further that he proposes to hold public hearings probably during May at Brainerd, Aitkin, Grand Rapids and Walker, to be held on consecutive days so as to minimize the time of those who might desire to attend all of them.

"In my reply to Major Williams I requested that he set some time late in May or early in June for these meetings. I also called his attention to the conference which was held in Washington last summer with his predecessor, at which time it was agreed that during the dry seasons the policy of discharging the minimum flow would be followed."

"Congressman Knutson is leaving Washington on a short trip, but will be back again before the end of the month. He has probably a month's work at Washington before he will be able to return home to the sixth district of Minnesota.

TAG DAY OF BOYS' BAND

Proves Decided Success, Quite a Sum of Money Netted for Purpose

NEW UNIFORMS FUND

Saturday a Rummage and Cook Sale Will be Held for Their Benefit

The tag day conducted Saturday under the auspices of the Brainerd Boys' Band was a decided success netting quite a sum of money to the special fund for the purchase of new uniforms.

So far money has been derived from the annual concert and the dance given in the U. C. T. auditorium and Saturday a rummage and cook sale will be held in the building formerly occupied by the Peterson Clothing Co. on Seventh street. Several merchants have signified their intention of donating a uniform and with this help it is hoped to have the uniforms by May 1.

The band wishes to thank everyone that has helped to make these affairs a success and the public in general for its hearty response.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT SHORTER SKIRTS

By HEDDA HOYT
New York, March 8. — (UP)—Skirts are soaring higher in Palm Beach. At least, they are both shorter and fuller where the dance frock is concerned. Decolletage is lower and more extreme than ever and the modern gown display on the smart ballroom floor is a mere wisp of glittering chiffon, according to recent reports.

Have you seen the new 'bracelet frocks'? The fad for wearing ten or twelve bracelets on one arm has been utilized by gown manufacturers this season and numerous bracelets of bangle type are sewn to the underseam of the sleeve of the gown. So far, we have seen bracelets used only on semi-sports frocks. For instance, a light green jumper frock has ten of these gold bangle bracelets attached to the seam of the left arm. Bracelets are attached about a quarter of an inch apart being sewn to the sleeve with heavy silk thread.

Colors for Spring which are meeting with most approval are black and navy blue. Navy blue, after seasons of oblivion, is returning full blast. Black and white magpie effects are well represented. Next in importance to black and navy, shades of beige rule. Beige coats are particularly numerous. A pinkish beige, almost a complexion shade, is very well liked for dress purposes owing to its flattering qualities. Grays, brighter blues, light greens, rose and off-pink shades follow in preference where coats, suits and gowns are concerned.

Imitation tortoise shell jewelry is being sponsored by department stores. Monograms of so-called tortoise shell are being made up to order by several stores. These are worn upon pockets, lapels, hats or as pendants on necklaces. Necklaces of imitation tortoise shell made in large links with monogram pendants sell for around $8.50.

Plaid coats made on straight lines are well liked for sports wear this season. As a rule they are trimmed with collars of black or black and white monkey fur. Monkey fur will be generously used on both cloth and silk coats this Spring. Perhaps it has never had a greater vogue.

Rosko Brothers are now occupying the large new section added to their building at the corner of Ninth and Laurel streets.

Most of the second floor above the new section is devoted to storage of tires, accessories, and parts. The complete building, originally a two story structure and its story and a half addition occupies a ground space of 100 by 100 feet.

"Our business last year in Dodge Brothers cars and Graham trucks was very good," said Henry Rosko, of the firm of Rosko Brothers. "We expect 1927 to be fully as good."

BISHOP'S CRUSADE

Bishop Frank Arthur McElwain, D. D.

Bishop Frank Arthur McElwain, D. D., of Minneapolis, who comes to St. Paul's Episcopal church, of Brainerd, tomorrow, has been one of the foremost leaders among the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States in the conduct of what is called the Bishops' Crusade. He has spent practically the entire past two months' during the active and intensive part of the Crusade, taking an active part in and conducting the services of the crusade. In the month of January, the bishop was a week in Cleveland, Ohio, and a second week in Toledo, Ohio, in the conduct of the crusade. Upon completing those engagements he returned to the twin cities and while Bishop Maxon of Tennessee preached each night for a week at the Lyceum theatre where all of the parishes of the Protestant Episcopal church in Minneapolis combined for the services of the crusade in Minneapolis, Bishop McElwain assisted and presided at all of the services. In like manner in St. Paul the services were conducted for a week at the auditorium, with Dr. George Craig Stewart preaching each night, while Bishop McElwain assisted him and presided.

In the month of February the crusade services were carried to the parishes and chapels in the southern diocese of Minnesota while Bishop McElwain himself visited two and conducted the crusade. In addition to this work of the crusade in Minnesota, he spent two weeks in the state of Idaho during February conducting the crusade there.

and active in young peoples work and has had charge of their activities at some of the summer conferences. He has just recently taken up the pastorate of the Episcopal church at Paynesville where most distinctive progress has been made.

The objectives of the bishops' crusade of the Protestant Episcopal church as it has been initiated and is being carried out throughout the entire United States, have been given by the nation commission on evangelism of Washington, D. C., as follows:

1. A confession of Christ openly before men as Lord and Saviour.
2. Regular daily individual and family prayer.
3. Understanding better the mind of Christ through daily Bible reading.
4. Seeking strength for service through worship and sacrament.
5. Active service by every member of the church.
6. Developing a deeper sense of individual responsibility for bringing others to Christ.
7. Earnest effort to combat worldliness by more consistent practice of the Christian life.

In the services of the bishops' crusade as they have been conducted in every state through the entire country during the past two months, there have been hundreds and hundreds of thousands of people hearing the messages of the crusaders as they have preached at many hundreds of services. In practically all of the largest cities no church could be found that was large enough to hold the immense congregations and the largest theatres and auditoriums have been rented for the crusade services. Not only have the members of the Protestant Episcopal church attended themselves but many thousands of the members and ministers of other Christian bodies have attended and assisted in the services. The public is cordially invited to all of the services at St. Paul's Episcopal church of Brainerd and a special invitation is extended to all to attend the bishops' crusade services this week.

In the services of the bishops' Crusade as they have been conducted in every state through the entire country during the past two months, there have been hundreds and hundreds of thousands of people hearing the messages of the Crusade as they have preached at many hundreds of services. In practically all of the largest cities no church could be found that was large enough to hold the immense congregations and the largest theatres and auditoriums have been rented for the Crusade services. Not only have the members of the Protestant Episcopal church attended themselves but many thousands of the members and ministers of other Christian bodies have attended and assisted in the services. The public is cordially invited to all of the services at St. Paul's Episcopal church of Brainerd and a special invitation is extended to all to attend the bishops' Crusade services this week.

BONDING MOTORISTS

WITH mingled high hopes and misgivings, says the Anoka Herald editorially, Massachusetts put into effect January first the first compulsory automobile insurance law in the United States. Every automobile owner in that state, and there were 850,000 last year, before he can obtain a registration license for 1927 must post a bond to cover accident liabilities or show an insurance policy covering the same risk.

Under the power of the legislative act, some months ago rates for the various classes of motor vehicles were made public. The state was divided into three territories, with metropolitan Boston paying the highest premium.

These rates already have drawn fire. Some residents have protested that the districting of the state constitutes discrimination, which is forbidden by law. Companies operating taxicabs or other groups of cars have sought a "fleet rate," which the attorney general has said is illegal under the present law. Insurance companies have not looked kindly on the rule which makes it mandatory to insure all applicants.

This is the first effort to try out a plan which this paper has favored for some years. It is an effort to get at the judgment proof motorist, the careless fool who does his damage and escapes all responsibility.

The result of the tryout in Massachusetts will be awaited with interest.

U. S. PRESS MOST POWERFUL

"THE press of the United States is today, and has been almost from its beginning, the freest, the fairest and the most powerful press of the world."

"In no small part this is due to the economic independence it has achieved through the development of advertising. Some have erroneously assumed that the newspaper press was tempted to servility as a result of the large proportion of its revenue derived from advertising."

"The truth is that the newspaper renders the advertiser a service without which he may not prosper, and the advertiser brings to the newspaper an honorable source of revenue without which it might be, as it is elsewhere in the world, subject to grave temptations from illegitimate special interests," says Lee A. White, of the Detroit News.

THE SCHALL INVESTIGATION

EDITOR ALVAH EASTMAN makes these comments in a recent issue of the St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press about the new investigation of Senator Schall.

"This time it will be by the Minnesota state senate, which is said to cover the same ground as did the Washington probe, instigated by Magnus Johnson on the charges that Schall secured his election by the aid of contributions from bootleggers, and other nefarious methods."

"The U. S. senate committee made its report in favor of Schall and he was given his seat by the senate. The Minnesota senate has no authority over Schall or the United States senate, and whatever investigation it may make, or what conclusions it arrives at will be only informative. One of the reasons given 'was to preserve the good name of Minnesota'."

OUR THEORY ON TIDAL WAVES

WE have a theory concerning tidal waves following earthquakes, and that is that the tremor so disarranged the floor of the ocean bed near Japan that a disturbance of the water above followed.

We think that the Pacific ocean is particularly the scene of these great disturbances of nature. Witness the recent earthquakes along the California and Mexican coast and now followed by the revulsions of nature in Japan. With all the disturbances in its midst, the Pacific ocean belies its name of being calm and pacific.

MORE ZONING

TROUT fishing season in Minnesota would undergo another change according to a bill recommended for passage last Saturday by the house of representatives sitting as a committee of the whole.

Time limits would be shortened under the provisions of the bill and the state would be divided into two sections as is now the law for other game fish. The season which now opens April 15th and closes September first would be changed in the northern zone to May 25th and would be ended in both sections on August 15th. No change in the opening date would be made in the southern zone.

Brainerd has had its experience with this north and south zoning system and it curtails our tourist season.

THERE can be no tangible results accomplished in the direction of automobile accident prevention until we eliminate from our highways the reckless and careless drivers and those physically or mentally unfit to operate a motor vehicle, says the Park Rapids Enterprise.

THE merchants of a town play a most important part in it. Their progressiveness largely determines whether a town will stand still or move forward. Indications are that there will be fewer towns of any consequence ten years hence, and unless merchants reach out for trade, it is going elsewhere, says the Milaca Tribune.

THE editor of one of our exchanges makes this concession concerning his prowess: "When you can pay your bills with the same cheer that you receive money, you will be a better man than we are."—Red Wing Eagle.

SPRING will be here before you know it. Snow is disappearing, as one notices in a drive southward along the cement. South of St. Cloud, there never seemed to be much of a snowfall all winter.

THE Johnson Post, No. 382, of the American Legion at Hawley, will put on an old fiddlers contest March 25.

AN excellent way to learn the value of a dollar is to try to borrow one, says the Anoka Herald.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, working his way through college, finds with his chums, Freddy and Arch, an easy way to earn money—working as dancing partners, of afternoons, for rich women in a fashionable New Jersey roadhouse. Bob thinks it isn't a fit way to make a living; but, to get funds to finish school, goes. At the Inn he sees the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on. She is Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitue of the Inn, who asks to meet him.

CHAPTER VII—Continued

Mrs. Hammond was positively radiant with interest and admiration as Bob, with his boyish and old-fashioned courtliness, acknowledged Madame Leonine's gushing presentation. An introduction that was deferential on the Madame's part—to the last degree, and was as elaborate and ritualistic as any presentation at England's Court of St. James could possibly have been. A presentation that was watched, catlike and doglike, by all the ladies and lords, and courtiers and fops, and mistresses and callants of this gay New Jersey palace of passion and mirth.

A presentation that was watched by Sally, the dainty little lady-in-waiting, from under the yellow silk fringe of her long lashes, with confidence—without fear.

CHAPTER VIII

Bob Ward, however, was feeling far from comfortable and self-assured as, at Mrs. Hammond's delicately expressed suggestion, he sat down at her table to chat a bit with her before the next dance should start. Madame Leonine padded away, through her jungle of tables, to convey to the orchestra leader Mrs. Hammond's preference of a selection for the next number. Life within the roadhouse settled back into its fussy routine, after the agitation caused by the advent of the Queen of Play subsided.

But nearly everyone continued to furtively watch Mrs. Hammond's appraising and testing of her new toy—said toy being Bob Ward, the six-foot-two gridiron champ.

Bob—oddly enough in one whose social perceptions, at least where women of sophistication figured, were ordinarily very dense—somehow felt almost immediately this sense of being a toy. Of being a plastic plaything in the supple hands of a surprisingly clever player.

He was uneasy under the glinting directness of her stare—her uncanonically mirthless smile. Or was it really a gracious smile—a charming smile? He could not tell, for the life of him. He only knew that he wished himself safely off in a far corner alone with Sally. For here, with Mrs. Hammond's eyes boring into him so, he felt himself slowly dissolving inside, as it were—disintegrating, slipping away from the safe moorings of his clean youth, into the shallow but terribly swift river of this woman's flaming nature. He wished she would quit looking at him so—ravishingly, was it? He was beginning to feel a bit dizzy; a bit carried off of himself. Good Lord, was she trying to hypnotize him?

Was that it? Almost involuntarily, as he mechanically returned monosyllabic answers to her softly insistent questions, he gripped the edges of the table. It was as though he felt this physical precaution necessary to guard him from falling into those deep, dark pools of volcanic eyes. Flaming erasers. Good Lord, but this woman was magnificent! Beautiful as a finely chiselled masterpiece of statuary; alluring as a trope! Night!

Oh, thank Heaven!—there, the music was starting up. Time for the next dance. Then, with that over, he would escape. She would want someone else—especially if he danced and acted as stupidly overawed as he felt. Escape! Yes, the assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general.

Mrs. Elizabeth Koop, widow of the late Severn Koop, is the first person who ever paid an inheritance tax in Crow Wing county. In closing up the estate it was the first wherein this tax could be collected under the law. The inheritance tax is collected on estates that equal $5,000, in value or exceed that amount. One per cent of the value of the estate with 5 per cent off for cash is collected according to law and Mrs. Koop paid into the county treasury something like $100, the total value of the estate being something like $11,000.

Attorney F. E. Ebner of Aitkin is in the city today making arrangements to move here at once. He has secured office room in the First National bank building, the room formerly occupied by Attorney E. W. Crane who has moved next door to Judge Holland's office. Mr. Ebner is a lawyer of ability and comes to Brainerd highly recommended.

William Rogers has bought James McDonough's house and three lots on the corner of Seventh and Bluff streets north. The consideration was $875.

Otto Reinhardt returned from a three weeks trip through Aitkin and Cass counties selling hospital tickets to lumbermen.

"For Heaven's Sake's" Successor Here Tomorrow

Harold Lloyd celebrates his fifth year as a producer of feature length comedies, by giving his legion of followers "The Kid Brother" which ranks high among his finest contributions. In this work, as in all past productions, Lloyd again demonstrates his complete mastery of the answer to that eternal problem, "What does the public want?"

In "The Kid Brother," Harold's latest Paramount release, which arrives at the Lyceum tomorrow for a three day run, he is said to have another of those sure-fire laugh getters, reminiscent in theme of "Grandma's Boy" with its inferiority complex theme. If it were only half as good as that production it would still be a knockout.

Happy Though Married

The happiness of married life depends on a power of making small sacrifices with readiness and cheerfulness. Few persons are ever called upon to make great sacrifices or to confer great favors; but affection is kept alive, and happiness secured by keeping up a constant warfare against little selfishnesses.

Japanese sailors today were busy at rescue and relief work. Motor transit was impossible, the dispatch from Miyazu said, the roads having been badly damaged by the quake. Railroads today were moving relief supplies without charge.

JAPAN SUMMONS ALL ITS RESOURCES

Tokio, March 8—Japan summoned the resources of an empire today to repair earthquake damage and to succor the living and injured in the large area which yesterday was visited by destruction.

Early estimates of the dead varied widely, but it was apparent today that Japan had suffered another tremendous calamity, although not comparable in point of numbers killed nor damage done to the earthquake of 1923, which destroyed Tokio and Yokohama and large adjacent areas.

According to reliable and so far best available information, there were 1,229 persons dead in five towns of the prefecture of Kyoto. Several villages had been obliterated. The figures were obtained today from the official police report of the Kyoto prefecture. Official estimates said 706 persons had been injured in that area.

The cabinet met today in special session to vote relief measures for the stricken areas. The Japanese navy, which was ordered into action soon after the quake occurred at 6:30 P. M. yesterday, was working from the coastal areas of the shaken provinces for the relief of inhabitants.

Railways today already had begun the task of moving medicines, physicians and supplies. Such supplies were being transported without charge.

Motor transport, according to reports from the provinces, was impossible today, owing to the smashing force of the quake upon the roads.

A tidal wave, reminiscent of the mighty surge of water which smashed against the coast immediately after the 1923 quake, caused damage yesterday. On a small scale, the terrible first Saturday of September, 1923, was reproduced in this latest Japanese earthquake. Fire broke out as soon as flimsy houses toppled over, and broke out in 1923. But this time the quake apparently had not been sufficiently severe to wrench or destroy water mains. Firemen at Osaka fought the fire and extinguished it.

Officially reported deaths and injuries today numbered in the neighborhood of 2,000, whereas 33,000 persons were burned to death at one spot in Tokio on the Saturday night of the great quake. That host of refugees crossed the Sumido river to a great military compound to escape the flames which were consuming their city. During the night, the flames leaped across the stream and laid down upon the huddled thousands a barrage of fire. They were found there the next morning, burned or suffocated, and all of them dead.

Kobe and Osaka were the largest cities within the severely shaken area of Monday night's quake. The prefectures of Kyoto, Osaka and Kyogo, representing a strip of land lying between the Japan sea on the north and the Pacific ocean on the south, apparently suffered most severely, although the dislocation of means of communications prevented accurate knowledge of the extent of the damage westward toward the tip of the island of Honshu, which is the principal island of the empire. Tokio and Yokohama lie about 175 miles northeast of the most severely shaken land areas.

The quake destroyed several mills which weave a special brand of silk called chitimen, the export of which amounts to millions of yen annually. It was feared that the stoppage of this industry, which would be difficult to revive, would have an unfavorable financial effect.

Powerful Melodrama, "The City," Screened by Fox Films

"The City," a powerful drama of human destinies and desires, adapted for Fox Films from the melodrama by Clyde Fitch, is at the Lyceum tonight only.

Bessie Love has the leading feminine role. Walter McGrail is seen at his best in the role made famous by Tully Marshall. Robert Frazer plays the part of the young attorney, whose ambitions take him to the city, but who is not able to cope with the conditions that surround him there.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For only 75 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

For here, with Mrs. Hammond's eyes boring into him so, he felt himself slowly dissolving inside, as it were—disintegrating, slipping away from the safe moorings of his clean youth, into the shallow but terribly swift river of this woman's flaming nature. He wished she would quit looking at him so—ravishingly, was it? He was beginning to feel a bit dizzy; a bit carried out of himself. Good Lord, was she trying to hypnotize him?

Was that it? Almost involuntarily, as he mechanically returned monosyllabic answers to her softly insistent questions, he gripped the edges of the table. It was as though he felt this physical precaution necessary to guard him from falling into those deep, dark pools of volcanic eyes. Flaming craters. Good Lord, but this woman was magnificent! Beautiful as a finely chiseled masterpiece of statuary; alluring as a tropic night!

Oh, thank Heaven!—there, the music was starting up. True for the next dance. Then, with that, over he would escape. She would want someone else—especially if he danced and acted as stupidly overawed as he felt. Escape! Yes, that was the precise word to express it. It would be escape—for now Bob felt himself enmeshed, imprisoned in a miasmatic swamp.

Out upon the floor. The Tigris and the lion. Away into the swirl of the dance.

Bob discovered, to his satisfaction, that Mrs. Hammond danced little short of divinely; and that, in surrendering herself to the artistic impulses and rhythms of the cadenced measures, she did not keep up a persistent and idle chattering. Which was a welcome relief from the pathetic clumsiness of some of the dowagers, and the incessant jawing of Mable Revere.

Bob found his mental and spiritual alarms abating in the pleasure of the physical perfection of Mrs. Hammond as a dancing partner. Then, too, he was fortified by the reassuring, approving, subtly radiant smiles which Sally Smith bestowed upon him every time he glanced her way—which was just as often as he could do so without dislocating his neck.

Knightly romances of old have often related how many a queen and princess have benefited through the ardor aroused in their spouses by the memories or thoughts of beggar maids. So, in a way, it was with Bob and Sally and Mrs. Hammond. For once, during the course of the dance, when Bob caught a particularly lovely smile from Sally, it was reflected, quite unconsciously, in a tightening of his arms around the object he held in them; which, according to his climbing thoughts, was Sally Smith; but, in reality, was the graceful form of Mrs. Hammond.

She, gratified at the sudden demonstration of apparent ardor, looked up with quick and tingling surprise into Bob's flushed face. Somehow, he realized what had happened. And as much to hide his embarrassment as to remedy the slip, made an apology that a promise, he smiled into her eyes. There was little else he could do, under the circumstances. But it only served to intensify what had been on his part a pure mistake; it only served to increase Mrs. Hammond's misapprehension that he had quite voluntarily signified a flirtatiously warm interest in her.

She pressed her body closer to his in the enchantment of the dance. She closed her eyes, and gave herself deliciously over to the strong and pleasant guidance of his arms. She did not speak. But she breathed a little harder; colored a little deeper. She was very happy.

Bob, despite an underlying fear of the fire that he had now and then caught flashes of far down in the darkness of her eyes—as one might glimpse ruddy glows when the stoke door of a distant train is swung to and fro at night—felt a supercilious thrill that even the safe smile Sally could not banish from his pulses, his limbs.

It was a point of the pride of his masculine youth to respond to the fact that this gorgeous creature, this beautiful and ultra-modern woman of the fashionable world, was evidently "falling" for him.

Let Freddy and Arch kid him now! He could tell them a thing or two.

Anyhow, surely if they were using their eyes, they could see for themselves just how things stood. How Mrs. Hammond, as trustfully as a babe, was allowing herself to be wafted around the room in his arms.

Certainly, Bob could not help noting, even what with his pleasure in the sensation of the dance itself and his glances toward the hovering Sally Smith, that many of the dancing couples, and all of the sitters, were admiringly and enviously watching Mrs. Hammond and him.

Madame Leonine, enraptured, stood in a palm bower near the orchestra and rubbed her hands ecstatically. Never had her polished floor been graced before by so outstanding a couple. Added to the avareness of the roadhouse keeper, was a gratification of the showmanship in Madame Leonine, and still something more—an appeal to the latent sense of the beautiful, which, though seemingly incongruous and out of place in such creatures, is nevertheless existent in so many women of the lower realms of the stage and the informal entertainment world.

Freddy and Arch watched, and Freddy managed to whisper to Arch, as they swayed close in a hesitating measure of the dance: "How are we going to keep him boning his books, now that he's hugged the Queen?"

Sally watched, and was pridefully sure that it was Bob, her partner, who was showing Mrs. Hammond off to such good advantage. The woman had never looked so wonderful with any other dancer. It was the company, the partner—of course! But Sally would be relieved when Mrs. Hammond would have some other partner.

There, the dance was ending now. Sally was vaguely disturbed by tremors of suspense. Would Mrs. Hammond be so ready to surrender this attractive partner?

In "The Kid Brother," Harold's latest Paramount release, which arrives at the Lyceum tomorrow for a three day run, he is said to have another of those sure-fire laugh getters, reminiscent in the name of "Grandma's Boy" with its inferiority complex theme. If it were only half as good as that production it would still be a knockout.

Happy Though Married

The happiness of married life depends on a power of making small sacrifices with readiness and cheerfulness. Few persons are ever called upon to make great sacrifices or to confer great favors; but affection is kept alive, and happiness secured by keeping up a constant warfare against little selfishnesses.

SOUTH JAPAN CATASTROPHE
GROWS HOURLY

Japanese sailors today were busy at rescue and relief work. Motor transit was impossible, the dispatch from Miyazu said, the roads having been badly damaged by the quake. Railroads today were moving relief supplies without charge.

JAPAN SUMMONS
ALL ITS RESOURCES

Tokio, March 8.—Japan summoned the resources of an empire today to repair earthquake damage and to succor the living and injured in the large area which yesterday was visited by destruction.

Early estimates of the dead varied widely, but it was apparent today that Japan had suffered another tremendous calamity, although not comparable in point of numbers killed nor damage done to the earthquake of 1923, which destroyed Tokio and Yokohama and large adjacent areas.

According to reliable and so far best available information, there were 1,229 persons dead in five towns of the prefecture of Kyoto. Several villages had been obliterated. The figures were obtained today from the official police report of the Kyoto prefecture. Official estimates said 766 persons had been injured in that area.

The cabinet met today in special session to vote relief measures for the stricken areas. The Japanese navy, which was ordered into action soon after the quake occurred at 6:30 P. M. yesterday, was working from the coastal areas of the shaken provinces for the relief of inhabitants.

Railways today already had begun the task of moving medicines, physicians and supplies. Such supplies were being transported without charge.

Motor transport, according to reports from the provinces, was impossible today, owing to the smashing force of the quake upon the roads.

A tidal wave, reminiscent of the mighty surge of water which smashed against the coast immediately after the 1923 quake, caused damage yesterday. On a small scale, the terrible first Saturday of September, 1923, was reproduced in this latest Japanese earthquake. Fire broke out as soon as flimsy houses toppled over, and a fire broke out in 1923. But this time the quake apparently had not been sufficiently severe to wrench or destroy water mains. Firemen at Osaka fought the fire and extinguished it.

Officially reported deaths and injuries today numbered in the neighborhood of 2,000, whereas 23,000 persons were buried to death at one spot in Tokio on the Saturday night of the great quake. That host of refugees crossed the Sumida river to a great military compound to escape the flames which were consuming their city. During the night, the flames leaped across the stream and laid down upon the huddled thousands a barrage of fire. They were found there the next morning, burned or suffocated, and all of them dead.

Kobe and Osaka were the largest cities within the severely shaken area of Monday night's quake. The prefectures of Kyoto, Osaka and Kyogo, representing a strip of land lying between the Japan sea on the north and the Pacific ocean on the south, apparently suffered most severely, although the dislocation of means of communications prevented accurate knowledge of the extent of the damage westward toward the tip of the island of Honshu, which is the principal island of the empire. Tokio and Yokohama lie about 175 miles northeast of the most severely shaken land areas.

The quake destroyed several mills which weave a special brand of silk called chirimén, the export of which amounts to millions of yen annually. It was feared that the stoppage of this industry, which would be difficult to revive, would have an unfavorable financial effect.

EASY TO DARKEN
YOUR GRAY HAIR

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For only 75 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

BASKETBALL FAN DIES FROM INJURIES IN CAR ACCIDENT

Willmar, Minn., March 8.—(UP)—Kenneth Carlson, 22-year-old basketball fan, was dead here today from injuries sustained late Saturday in an automobile accident while returning home from the high school tournament at Litchfield.

Although Carlson was rushed back to Litchfield hospital, doctors were unable to offer much aid in his fight for life. The youth's skull was fractured when he was pinned beneath the overturned car.

Marcus Hovey of Atwater, who was with young Carlson at the time of the accident, escaped uninjured.

MICHIGAN IS BIG 10 CHAMPION OF BASKETEERS

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 8.—(UP)—The University of Michigan basketball team today is the Big Ten champion for 1926-27 following its defeat of Iowa university 31-29.

Michigan lost but two games during the season. Indiana and Purdue both scored victories over the Maze and Blue but these games were retracted by late in the season victories.

Michigan's victory last night, which clinched the championship, was a brilliant win. The excellent playing of Captain Chambers who caged five field goals and six free throws, and Bennie Oosterbaan, football and basketball star, were the high lights of the deciding game.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 8.—(UP)—A grand parade of University of Michigan clinched the championship, was a brilliant winning of their first undisputed Big Ten basketball title, ended in a near riot.

Three men were injured when police reserves, called to stop an attempted "rush" entrance into two local theatres, resorted to firing tear gas into the crowd.

The students retaliated with bricks, stones, bottles, and "over-ripe" eggs. For half an hour the crowd, estimated to contain more than 500 undergraduates, surged back and forth in the street, before finally dispersing. No arrests were made.

HOREMANS LEADS FIELD IN CHAMPION BALKLINE BILLIARDS

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—Edward Horemans, Belgian 18.2 balkline billiard champion, led the field in the world championship tourney with three victories and no defeats, following a 400 to 233 victory over Willie Hoppe, titleholder.

The Belgian, a former world champion, made high runs of 124, 92, 85, and 61 last night, while Hoppe didn't seem to be able to get started, his best runs being 72 and 66. Hoppe has won only one out of three matches.

Young Jake Schaefer and Welker Cochran are runners-up with two victories and one defeat each. Cochran meets Felix Grange, European champion, this afternoon, and Hoppe plays Schaefer tonight. The tournament will end Friday, after each of the seven entrants has played every other entrant.

SCORES THREE RUNS, TAKES
SEVEN FIELDING CHANCES
WITHOUT ERROR

Sarasota, Fla., March 8.—(UP)—Rogers Hornsby, new captain and second baseman of the Giants, made an impressive showing as he batted out three hits in as many times at the plate, scored three runs and took seven fielding chances without error in his first game for New York in which the Giants defeated the St. Louis Browns, 13 to 1, yesterday. The game, first of the McGraw-men's training season, demonstrated the Giants have a team which will be hard to keep out of the pennant race.

Hornsby set his new teammates a fast pace, smacking out a double the first time at bat, throwing accurately and figuring as pivot for two double plays.

The Rajah wore neither brace nor bandage about his spine which he injured a year ago, and said he felt fine.

Although complete organization of the Giants is not yet possible, it is probable there will be no change in McGraw's plans to use Dewitt Lebourveau, who got a home run his first time up, as lead-off and left fielder against right-handed twirlers. George Harper will be in right against right-handers with Rousch at center. Al Tyson will be in left against southpaws and Andy Reese, a rookie from Memphis, Tenn., will be Harper's change-off.

The Browns looked like a minor league outfit in the game and Dan Howley, their new manager, said he cannot see how the Giants can be headed off this year.

Score by innings:
Giants 330 034 00x—13 13 2
Browns 000 100 000—1 7 3

Batteries:
New York—Barnes, Henry, Clark, Sch. Alameda and Devorner, Hamby.
St. Louis—Blacholder, Falk and O'Neill, Dixon.

CATCHING SQUAD NOT ONE TO EXCITE SUPERLA-
TIVES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 8.—Some weeks ago after baseball had passed through the clearing house of Commissioner Landis with a white robe and a bigger salary for Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, the oralists, as they refer to the men who make bets on the tracks, established the New York Giants as the favorite to win the National League pennant.

At that time the Giants had a great infield, a great outfield, a pitching staff that didn't worry John J. McGraw too much, and a catching staff that was spotty but promising with recruits.

Ty Cobb, who hadn't spoken to McGraw in years since a series of disorders during an exhibition trip between the Giants and the Detroit Tigers, was obliged to visit Sarasota, Fla., some days ago. Cobb went to the park where the Giants were training. He shook hands with Mc-

Graw and they turned out to be great friends.

"That infield out there, John," Cobb said, "is the greatest in the history of the game. I have never seen fellows who can work faster than that bunch."

Cobb referred to Bill Terry at first base, Rogers Hornsby at second, Travis Jackson at short, and Freddy Lindstrom at third base.

Cobb remarked that he had seen the famous infield of the Boston Red Sox, the million dollar combination that Connie Mack had once, and the famous "Tinker to Evers to Chance" trio and that he figured the Giants' combination the best.

The outfield at that time on paper was Pep Young in right field, Eddie Roush in centerfield and one of a dozen worthies in left field. It looked like an outfield almost as good as Detroit's — and Detroit never has been without a great outfield.

But since then Pep Young has been lost for a season at least, Roush is holding out for the many reasons he always has for holding out, and the Giants haven't a regular working left fielder.

Young, one of the greatest outfielders of the day, can't play this season. He is in a critical condition in a hospital in San Antonio suffering from Bright's disease and it is doubtful that he ever will be able to play baseball again if he recovers.

Roush says he will not play with the Giants unless he gets Babe Ruth money but Roush will be with the Giants not long after the season opens if not before.

With Young out, the Giants will have to play Harper in right field and Bevo Lebourveau in left field and that trio is not a great outfield even with Roush in the center.

The pitching staff is uncertain and the catching squad certainly is not one to excite anyone to superlatives.

The Giants, with those bad breaks even before the season starts, do not look like an odds on favorites to win.

But as the Giants' hustlers say—and they always hustle—who's going to beat us?

If you name the party, you win.

If there's one thing more than any other which I like about this grand old tobacco, it is its mildness . . . mildness that is balanced, however, by a full, rich body that satisfies my smoke-taste all the way down. It was this rare combination of mildness and tobacco-body that won me to P. A. right off the bat.

SEVEN FIELDING CHANCES
WITHOUT ERROR

Sarasota, Fla., March 8.—(UP)—Rogers Hornsby, new captain and second baseman of the Giants, made an impressive showing as he batted out three hits in as many times at the plate, scored three runs and took seven fielding chances without error in his first game for New York in which the Giants defeated the St. Louis Browns, 13 to 1, yesterday. The game, first of the McGraw-men's training season, demonstrated the Giants have a team which will be hard to keep out of the pennant race.

Hornsby set his new teammates a fast pace, smacking out a double the first time at bat, throwing accurately and figuring as pivot for two double plays.

The Rajah wore neither brace nor bandage about his spine which he injured a year ago, and said he felt fine.

Although complete organization of the Giants is not yet possible, it is probable there will be no change in McGraw's plans to use Dewitt Lebourveau, who got a home run his first time up, as lead-off and left fielder against right-handed twirlers. George Harper will be in right against right-handers with Rousch at center. Al Tyson will be in left against southpaws and Andy Reese, a rookie from Memphis, Tenn., will be Harper's change-off.

The Browns looked like a minor league outfit in the game and Dan Howley, their new manager, said he cannot see how the Giants can be headed off this year.

Score by innings:
Giants 330 034 00X—13 13 2
Browns 000 100 000—1 7 5

Batteries:
New York—Barnes, Henry, Clark, Alameda and Devormer, Hamby.
St. Louis—Blaeholder, Falk and O'Neill, Dixon.

FAVORITES SURVIVE FIERCE COMPETITION, PALM BEACH TENNIS

George Lott, Jr., Chicago, won by default from Wade Gardner of Fort Lauderdale. L. G. Morris, New York, lost to Junior Coen, Kansas City, 6-0, 6-1.

In the lower bracket Percy Kynaston, New York, moved into the quarter finals by winning from Kenneth Gosman, West Palm Beach, 7-5, 6-1.

CATCHING SQUAD NOT ONE TO
TIVES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 8.—Some weeks ago after baseball had passed through the clearing house of Commissioner Landis with a white robe and a bigger salary for Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, the oracles, as they refer to the men who make bets on the tracks, established the New York Giants as the favorite to win the National League pennant.

At that time the Giants had a great infield, a great outfield, a pitching staff that didn't worry John J. McGraw too much, and a catching staff that was spotty but promising with recruits.

Ty Cobb, who hadn't spoken to McGraw in years since a series of disorders during an exhibition trip between the Giants and the Detroit Tigers, was obliged to visit Sarasota, Fla., some days ago. Cobb went to the park where the Giants were training. He shook hands with Me-

Graw and they turned out to be great friends.

"That infield out there, John," Cobb said, "is the greatest in the history of the game. I have never seen fellows who can work faster than that bunch."

Cobb referred to Bill Terry at first base, Rogers Hornsby at second, Travis Jackson at short, and Freddy Lindstrom at third base.

Cobb remarked that he had seen the famous infield of the Boston Red Sox, the million dollar combination that Connie Mack had once, and the famous "Tinker to Evers to Chance" trio and that he figured the Giants' combination the best.

The outfield at that time on paper was Pep Young in right field, Eddie Roush in centerfield and one of a dozen worthies in left field. It looked like an outfield almost as good as Detroit's — and Detroit never has been without a great outfield.

But since then Pep Young has been lost for a season at least, Roush is holding out for the many reasons he always has for holding out, and the Giants haven't a regular working left fielder.

Young, one of the greatest outfielders of the day, can't play this season. He is in a critical condition in a hospital in San Antonio suffering from Bright's disease and it is doubtful that he ever will be able to play baseball again if he recovers. Roush says he will not play with the Giants unless he gets Babe Ruth money but Roush will be with the Giants not long after the season opens if not before.

With Young out, the Giants will have to play Harper in right field and Bevo Lebourveau in left field and that trio is not a great outfield even with Roush in the center.

The pitching staff is uncertain and the catching squad certainly is not one to excite anyone to superlatives.

The Giants, with those bad breaks even before the season starts, do not look like an odds on favorites to win.

But as the Giants' hustlers say — and they always hustle — who's going to beat us?

If you name the party, you win.

P. A.

—that's my dish!

I COULDN'T ask for more. Prince Albert gives me everything I want in a smoke. It is fragrant, delightfully fragrant . . . both in the tidy red tin, and as I smoke it in my old jimmy-pipe. It is cool and sweet as an orange just off the ice. Refreshing!

If there's one thing more than any other which I like about this grand old tobacco, it is its mildness . . . mildness that is balanced, however, by a full, rich body that satisfies my smoke-taste all the way down. It was this rare combination of mildness and tobacco-body that won me to P. A. right off the bat.

I can't give you the complete picture, for taste is a thing that must be experienced. But I feel so sure that you will enjoy P. A. as you never enjoyed any other tobacco, that I am telling you, here and now, to buy a tidy red tin and get started. You can't lose, Men.

Thousands of pipe-smokers who thought they were all set have taken similar advice. They've agreed that it was worth the experiment. Today they are among the millions of P. A. regulars . . . the most contented bunch of pipe-smokers in the world. Come on in—the smoking's fine.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and punch removed by the Prince Albert process.

DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP LOST TO B. H. S. BY ONE POINT TO CROSBY-IRONTON

LOCALS DEFEAT STAPLES, 17-11,
AND LITTLE FALLS, 14-11,
IN FAST GAMES

FITZHARRIS, ORTH, LOWE AND
DE ROCHER LOST TO NEXT YEAR'S TEAM

Brainerd's chance for another district championship was taken from them when they lost a heart-breaking contest to Crosby-Ironton by a score of 21-20. The Blue and White cagers played remarkable basketball throughout the tournament and are complimented throughout the district for their showing. While we compliment Crosby-Ironton on winning the championship, we are safe in saying that we have one of the best teams and have executed some of the smoothest teamwork offered this year at the tournament.

Brainerd 17, Staples 11
The locals started their way to the finals by defeating Staples. It was a game of spectacular interest and both sides were executing a fine brand of ball but Staples was soon overcome by the locals, who during the latter part of the game surprised their opposition in most all branches of the game. Fitzharris and Lowe were the high scorers of the contest, Fitzharris scoring seven points and Lowe second with six. On the defense, both Lowe and DeRocher were high markers and were greatly responsible for the defeat of Staples. Brainerd missed a considerable number of shots which would have made the score a great deal more than the result was.

Brainerd 14, Little Falls 11
The Blue and White cagers put themselves into the finals when they defeated the fast Little Falls quint. Little Falls who had beaten the Wadena five the preceding day by a high score, was expected to make a close run with Brainerd, which they did as far as scoring was concerned, for it was only a matter of three points which kept them from running neck and neck with the locals, but the locals outclassed them in teamwork and completely played their opposition off their feet. The locals were in fine condition for the contest and every man played at top notch speed, which resulted in giving Brainerd the victory over the down river quint. At the end of the first half the score stood 10-3 in favor of the locals. Lowe, Guin and Fitzharris were the scoring aces of the contest with Orth, Wise and DeRocher working with them with remarkable teamwork.

Crosby-Ironton 21, Brainerd 20
The final contest was anybody's game until the final whistle, for after the first quarter the score saw-sawed back and forth. The locals were somewhat handicapped at the start and C-I scored nine points to the Blue and White's one during the first quarter. After that the locals got busy and continued to pile up the score until the half which ended in a 10-10 tie.

Brainerd came back in the second half to score four points before C-I could get started; then C-I started to creep up and the score was right on edge until the end of the contest. The locals, however, were in the lead until the last minute of play when C-I scored a long field goal to give them the one-point margin. The locals missed many shots during the game and in the latter part were handicapped by the loss of Captain Fitzharris who was put out on fouls. The locals were playing a very remarkable game and their teamwork was of a remarkably higher standard. Frank Wise made one of the most spectacular shots at the tournament when he made a long one from the center of the floor that netted the basket without even touching the rim. He also won the third prize in the free throw contest and was awarded the bronze medal. The first and second points went to Stanford of Aitkin and Sherwood of Pine River.

Hundreds of fans under the leadership of John Fisher, yell leader, witnessed the tournament and backed their team with all they had.

This year the B. H. S. will lose many good men such as Captain Fitzharris, DeRocher, Lowe and Orth who have been stars for their high school for two and three years.

We wish them success and hope their athletic careers may be honored again as they pass ahead into schools of higher learning.

Margaret Springer (in Folsom's): Is "My Baby" in?

Clerk: I don't know. Who is he?

Freshman, very much excited: Yes, much obliged.

Basket Tossers Return

Monday morning, the war weary basket-tossers (it's impossible to figure up a new name for a basketball team) came back to school after the district tournament to be congratulated. They reached the finals, as you all know, and were beaten by one point. By the way Crosby-Ironton deserved the game and everybody should get back of their team and root for them at Alexandria.

But to get back to Monday morning; the players came back, there's no doubt about it, and they were congratulated and they deserved it too. The program, especially the speech by Mr. Beresford deserves a great deal of mention—he told how he helped the tournament along and then congratulated the team and the Brainerd crowd. The highlights of the mornings entertainment was the speech by "Cap" Fitzharris, who made a fine speech after three rehearsals and the total disappearance of "Blushing Willie" Lowe as the rumor has it, was hiding in the waste basket downstairs.

This noon the good work was carried on and Frankie Wise was presented with a medal, the third prize in the free-throw tournament, which he very gracefully carried off.

The last artistic touch in the morning was a couple of yells directed and mostly produced by John Fisher, whose fine service did much to further our chances at Aitkin—at least so Cal Orth said. Not meaning to be sarcastic I think he said it because he had to have something to say in lieu of a speech—of course, that's only my opinion; still the crowd did yell.

Lil' Bertram and the Gang See the Tournament

Yes sir, we suitably did, both on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and every night we got proud. On Thursday, when the first redskin bit the dust we were pretty happy and we got happier when Little Falls had subsided—and Saturday—well, Saturday we were rather sorry that Crosby-Ironton should win the tournament but we knew that they hadn't proved anything. In fact, the Crosby-Ironton outfit got an awful surprise when they discovered they had won, I guess. And if Crosby-Ironton will keep humpin' and win something at the regional tournament we won't feel so bad.

It seems that Frankie Wise got a Carnegie medal for something or other and the team came home with a basketball which still has the price marked on it. The medal's sorta pretty and Frankie seems quite proud of it, maybe if you ask him sometime he'll show it to you. And the basketball is rather a handy article too. Personally, I didn't get anything, not even a pair of gloves swiped like last year, except—well I got quite some kick—how's yourself?

Junior Movie a Success

The movie staged by the Juniors Thursday, and Friday, February 24, 25 was a financial success, the members having sold their 1,000 tickets thereby receiving fifty percent of their sales. It was stated in last week's issue that the contract had not been fulfilled but this was not so. The first prize, a two months pass, was awarded to Beatrice Linn, who sold one hundred and twelve tickets. The second for one month, was won by Irene Molstad, who sold 107. Many others deserve much credit for the splendid way in which they canvassed, that the requisite amount might be sold. A fine spirit was shown during the ticket drive; and owing to this the goal was reached.

Many favorable comments were heard in regard to the choice of the movie. The comedy as well as the feature were brim full of clean fun, and judging from the laughter of the audience, were much enjoyed. Those in charge wish to thank everyone for their hearty co-operation.

Report Cards

Today many hearts are happy and other hearts are sad, for report cards for the first six weeks of the new semester came out today. The honor roll, we hope, is longer, and the list of failures shorter than of yore. Last semester's experience should have taught the wary ones that loafing leads to failure, and seldom gets by. There will, no doubt be those who never learn, and still hope on that by the grace of something or other, they may pass without labor. We wise ones study our lessons diligently for we know that only thus can we mount the ladder of success. A word to the wise is sufficient. If you need more, you're in the other class.

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

This noon the good work was carried on and Frankie Wise was presented with a medal, the third prize in the free-throw tournament, which he very gracefully carried off. The last artistic touch in the morning was a couple of yells directed at and mostly produced by John Fisher, whose fine service did much to further our chances at Aitkin—at least so Cal Orth said. Not meaning to be sarcastic I think he said it because he had to have something to say in lieu of a speech—of course, that's only my opinion; still the crowd did yell.

Lil' Bertram and the Gang See the Tournament

Yes sir, we suitably did, both on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and every night we got prouder. On Thursday, when the first redskin bit the dust we were pretty happy and we got happier when Little Falls had subsided—and Saturday—well, Saturday we were rather sorry that Crosby-Ironton should win the tournament but we knew that they hadn't proved anything. In fact, the Crosby-Ironton outfit got an awful surprise when they discovered they had won, I guess. And if Crosby-Ironton will keep humpin' and win something at the regional tournament we won't feel so bad.

It seems that Frankie Wise got a Carnegie medal for something or other and the team came home with a basketball which still has the price marked on it. The medal's sorta pretty and Frankie seems quite proud of it, maybe if you ask him sometime he'll show it to you. And the basketball is rather a handy article too. Personally, I didn't get anything, not even a pair of gloves swiped like last year, except—well I got quite some kick—how's yourself?

Junior Movie a Success

The movie staged by the Juniors Thursday, and Friday, February 24, 25 was a financial success, the members having sold their 1,000 tickets thereby receiving fifty percent of their sales. It was stated in last week's issue that the contract had not been fulfilled but this was not so. The first prize, a two months pass, was awarded to Beatrice Liners, who sold one hundred and twelve tickets. The second for one month, was won by Irene Molstad, who sold 107. Many others deserve much credit for the splendid way in which they canvassed, that the requisite amount might be sold. A fine spirit was shown during the ticket drive; and owing to this the goal was reached.

Many favorable comments were heard in regard to the choice of the movie. The comedy as well as the feature were brim full of clean fun, and judging from the laughter of the audience, were much enjoyed. Those in charge wish to thank everyone for their hearty co-operation.

At a recent investigation in Atlantic High School it was found the brunettes were preferred. The "stronger sex," when asked their opinion on the subject gave most of their answers for the dark haired type. A few were in favor of blondes and red heads.

Report Cards

Today many hearts are happy and other hearts are sad, for report cards for the first six weeks of the new semester came out today. The honor roll, we hope, is longer, and the list of failures shorter than of yore. Last semesters experience should have taught the wary ones that loafing leads to failure, and seldom gets by. There will, no doubt be those who never learn, and still hope on that by the grace of something or other, they may pass without labor. We wise ones study our lessons diligently for we know that only thus can we mount the ladder of success. A word to the wise is sufficient. If you need more, you're in the other class.

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.

POOL HALL LICENSE GRANTED UNDER FIRE

Alderman Martin Anderson Declares That Pool Halls a Hangout for School Kids

ALD. QUANSTROM OPPOSES HIM Bomb of Words and Near Threats Explode at Council Meeting Last Night

Declaring that pool halls should be centralized and not allowed in suburbs of the city and that they were more or less a hangout for school kids, Alderman Martin Anderson ignited the spark at the early part of last night's council meeting which exploded in a banter of cynical words and near threats.

It all started over an application by S. W. Doane to put in a table pool room at 1220 Oak street. The argument culminated in Alderman Martin Anderson calling for a vote of ayes and nays on the question. Alderman Martin Anderson and W. E. Lewis were the only two to oppose the motion, and the motion carried that the application be granted subject to the approval of the mayor.

"I am not in favor of allowing a pool room to open in the suburbs of the city. I believe they should be centralized," said Alderman Martin Anderson. "If you allow this application in the south end, the north end will want a pool room also."

Alderman Elvig was in favor of leaving the matter in the hands of the aldermen in that ward.

Alderman Lewis asked whether the people in Southeast Brainerd were in favor of it. Alderman Quanstrom replied that he had heard nothing against it.

Alderman M. Anderson—"I want to know how the people in Southeast Brainerd feel about allowing a pool room to go in?"

Alderman Quanstrom—"Are you in the fourth ward? You take care of your own ward. Do you want me to go around to every house in Southeast Brainerd and ask them if they want a pool room in or not?"

On the next remarks of Alderman Martin Anderson, Alderman Quanstrom told him to "Oh, shut up." Alderman Anderson replied "I don't have to."

Following the vote of ayes and nays, President Lyons told the aldermen that the next time they wanted to fight to go outside.

"He's always butting in," replied Alderman Quanstrom. "He's always saying something about the fourth ward and nothing about the second ward."

"As a city alderman I have the right to criticize," replied Alderman Anderson. "I am working for the interests of the city. Anyway you can't tell me when I can talk and when I can't."

On the remark of one of the aldermen to "sit down," Alderman Anderson replied "no one is getting up and setting me down either."

Alderman's Condition Improved President W. J. Lyons last evening reported to the city council that Alderman Wesley who was injured in a fall during the construction of the new Elks home last fall was improving and that he was now sitting up in a wheel chair at the hospital. He expressed the opinion however that it would be awhile yet before he would be able to be out.

The council expressed appreciation that Alderman Wesley's condition was improving.

The report of the municipal court clerk for the month ending February 28, showing a total amount of collections of $194.50 for the month was read and accepted.

The report follows: arrests in city cases, 4; paid fines in city cases, 4; civil cases commenced, 19; civil cases settled and paid, 6; civil cases ending, 13; arrests in state cases, 8; fines paid in state cases, 1; committed without paying fines, 2; cases pending, 1; certified to district court, 3; dismissed, 1; fines collected in city cases, $145; total amount of collections in all court cases for February, $194.50.

The report of the water and light board for the month of February showing receipts, $12,116.62; disbursements, $10,059.29, was referred to the finance committee for their approval.

A letter was received from Senator C. Rosenmeier in which the senator stated that he would oppose the bill whereby city fire departments be placed under civil service now before the legislature.

A petition signed by 36 residents of Northeast Brainerd petitioning the city water and light board to extend the water mains to their homes was referred to the water and light board on motion of Alderman Martin Anderson and C. H. Elvig with the recommendation that the same be cared for as soon as possible.

The dairy inspector's report was tendered and accepted. It showed 36 sediment tests made, 34 being clean; 20 samples of milk tested; 16 samples of cream tested with none found illegal, and eight applications to sell milk and cream.

A bill of $10 was allowed to the Bowen's paint shop for use of their building during last registration day.

City Attorney D. H. Fullerton reported that he had written the Northland Transportation Co. regarding the parking time allowance in front of the Ramsford hotel, but that as yet he had received no reply. He was of the opinion that the company would arrange a satisfactory time schedule.

City Engineer Campbell reported that he had received no reply as yet from the State Highway Department regarding the improvement contemplated this year on the Mississippi river bridge on West Laurel street.

Alderman Lewis was of the opinion that a splash board constructed on the bridge to protect the pedestrians from water splashed by cars would be an expensive proposition.

Alderman Ernest Ritari, chairman of the street committee reported that 200 feet of sewer tiling on the west line of 12th street on Maple street had been broken. The city engineer was instructed to bring in an estimate to the next meeting as to the cost of repairing the tiling.

The city engineer was further instructed to bring in an estimate in regard to the cost of installing sewers from 14th to 16th street on Maple street on 16th to 18th street on Laurel street.

The matter of putting in a culvert on 13th street and Laurel street near the shops and make temporary improvements was left in the hands of the city engineer to bring in an estimate.

City Engineer Campbell was further instructed to look into the condition of 14th and Rosewood streets in regard to spring water overflow.

On motion, the bill of David King for $5.50 for damages to his car in breaking of a spring at the corner of Mill and Ash avenue was not allowed. The council felt that if they allowed this claim there would be no end of claims placed on the city in regard to damages to cars while driving on the streets of the city.

City Engineer Campbell presented plans submitted by the N. P. railway in regard to proposed new signals on crossings in the city. The new type of signal, a bell warning system, was not considered favorable by some of the aldermen who felt that on account of the heavy traffic of trains at the majority of crossings in the city, the bell would be continually ringing and that the auto drivers would be inclined later on to disregard to warning signal. The matter was left in the hands of the street committee, city engineer, and city attorney to bring in a report.

COOLIDGE SEEKING
SUMMER VACATION
SITE IN WEST

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—President Coolidge is seeking a summer vacation site in the west, the presidential spokesman revealed at the White House today.

The president has not definitely made up his mind as to where he will go, but he is desirous of finding a place, the elevation of which will make it cool, it was said.

Numerous suggestions have been made that the president go to states all the way from Michigan to Utah. The president, however, believes he should not go too far away from Washington, so that he might readily return in case of any emergency.

6 MEN CONVICTED
OF SLAYING GIVEN
INDEFINITE STAY

Chicago, March 8.—(UP)—Six men convicted of killing Deputy Warden Peter Klein of the state penitentiary and sentenced to hang Friday, were granted an indefinite stay today to permit the state supreme court to review their cases.

Judge Frederick De Young of the supreme court granted a writ of supersedeas upon pleas of the attorneys for the six men and said there was sufficient evidence to permit a writ of error.

The state supreme court will be given the entire case to review.

ARSON CASE
AGAINST TEXAS
CO-ED STARTED

Georgetown, Texas, March 8.—(UP)—Another continuance was granted Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, alleged girl bandit, by the district court here today when the arson case against the pretty Texas university co-ed was called for trial.

Rebecca was not in court but was represented by her attorneys, H. M. Graves and John Coffey.

She was indicted last week in connection with the robbery of the First National Bank at Buda, Texas, and that case is set for trial March 14, next Monday.

The arson indictment followed testimony before the grand jury that Rebecca was seen in Round Rock, Texas, near Buda, on the day before the bank robbery, and is believed to know something about an incendiary fire that destroyed a business building there.

The arson trial was set for March 21.

FARMER BEATEN
BY 6 UNKNOWN MEN

Henderson, Tenn., March 8.—(UP)—Letser Savely, 27, a farmer, regained consciousness today after almost 24 hours of insensibility following a severe beating by six unknown men.

Savely was approached yesterday by a stranger and asked to help get an automobile out of a mud hole. Occupants of the car bound and gagged him, leaving their victim in the woods near his farm.

None of his assailants were recognized, Savely said.

Query of the Middle-Aged

Two elderly ladies were returning from a party at which all the family, young and old, had been present. "When I was young," said the elder, "I was taught to be quiet so that my elders could talk—and now that I am growing old, I find that I must be quiet so that the younger generation will be able to learn self-expression. I should like to know when my turn is coming!"

LITTLE BROWN
SATCHEL TRANSACTION

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—The government's special oil lawyers will act in the next 10 days to bring E. L. Doherty, his son, E. L. Doherty, Jr., and former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to trial on an indictment charging bribery in connection with the $100,000 little brown satchel transaction of Nov. 30, 1921.

Owen J. Roberts, prosecution leader of the cases resulting from the Teapot Dome senate investigation, told the United Press today he would ask the District of Columbia supreme court to call up the demurrers lodged against the indictments, for argument within the next 30 days.

The defendants' demurrers charge the indictments are illegal. If the court quashes them on Roberts' request, Allee Pomerene and Roberts will seek to bring the three men to trial here this summer.

Six Day Bike Race Returns

Philadelphia—Overton Tremper, Brooklyn, outfielder on the Pennsylvania varsity baseball team, was elected captain to succeed Paster Fields who has signed with the New York Giants.

3 LEADING BANKS
OF PALM BEACH
CLOSE THEIR DOORS

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—(UP)—Three leading banks of the Palm Beaches closed their doors this morning and started one of the most frenzied runs in the history of Florida finance.

Mid-day found streets jammed with depositors seeking to save their money by withdrawing it from remaining banks of the city.

Runs on the Farmers' bank and the Citizens' bank of West Palm Beach were such that an armored car was dispatched from Miami bearing cash for panicky depositors.

No sooner had the First American bank and Trust Co. posted notice that business was suspended for the protection of depositors than two other institutions closed—the Northwood bank and Trust Co. of West Palm Beach, and the First bank and Trust Co. of Palm Beach.

Heavy withdrawals on all three banks during the past eight or ten months and unsettled conditions of affairs in this part of the state were given as reasons for the closings.

U. S. SEN. SCHALL
PREPARING TO FIGHT
BACK CHARGES

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—(UP)—U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall, (rep. Minn.,) in Washington today prepared to return to St. Paul to fight back against charges of corruption.

Schall has notified State Senator W. A. Blanchard, of Anoka, chairman of the rules committee, that he will be present Monday when the committee opens the inquiry ordered after A. N. Jacobs, of Minneapolis, who contends he was Schall's manager in the 1924 campaign, had appeared before it at a secret meeting.

The blind senator already has struck his first blow. Minnesota daily newspapers received copies of a lengthy general denial by Schall of the charges against him.

Blanchard has received blank subpoenas to be used in summoning such witnesses as the committee wishes to hear.

IF BACK HURTS
FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty of Water and Take a Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Advt.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist.

Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Menthosulphur from any good druggist.

COOLIDGE SEEKING
SUMMER VACATION
SITE IN WEST

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—President Coolidge is seeking a summer vacation site in the west, the presidential spokesman revealed at the White House today.

The president has not definitely made up his mind as to where he will go, but he is desirous of finding a place, the elevation of which will make it cool, it was said.

Numerous suggestions have been made that the president go to states all the way from Michigan to Utah. The president, however, believes he should not go too far away from Washington, so that he might readily return in case of any emergency.

6 MEN CONVICTED
OF SLAYING GIVEN
INDEFINITE STAY

Chicago, March 8.—(UP)—Six men convicted of killing Deputy Warden Peter Klein of the state penitentiary and sentenced to hang Friday, were granted an indefinite stay today to permit the state supreme court to review their cases.

Judge Frederick De Young of the supreme court granted a writ of supersedeas upon pleas of the attorneys for the six men and said there was sufficient evidence to permit a writ of error.

The state supreme court will be given the entire case to review.

ARSON CASE
AGAINST TEXAS
CO-ED STARTED

Georgetown, Texas, March 8.—(UP)—Another continuance was granted Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, alleged girl bandit, by the district court here today when the arson case against the pretty Texas university co-ed was called for trial. Rebecca was not in court but was represented by her attorneys, H. M. Graves and John Coffey.

She was indicted last week in connection with the robbery of the First National Bank at Buda, Texas, and that case is set for trial March 14, next Monday.

The arson indictment followed testimony before the grand jury that Rebecca was seen in Round Rock, Texas, near Buda, on the day before the bank robbery, and is believed to know something about an incendiary fire that destroyed a business building there.

The arson trial was set for March 21.

FARMER BEATEN
BY 6 UNKNOWN MEN

Henderson, Tenn., March 8.—(UP)—Lester Savely, 27, a farmer, regained consciousness today after almost 24 hours of insensibility following a severe beating by six unknown men.

Savely was approached yesterday by a stranger and asked to help get an automobile out of a mud hole. Occupants of the car bound and gagged him, leaving their victim in the woods near his farm.

None of his assailants were recognized, Savely said.

Query of the Middle-Aged

Two elderly ladies were returning from a party at which all the family, young and old, had been present. "When I was young," said the elder, "I was taught to be quiet so that my elders could talk—and now that I am growing old, I find that I must be quiet so that the younger generation will be able to learn self-expression. I should like to know when my turn is coming!"

LITTLE BROWN
SATCHEL TRANSACTION

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—The government's special oil lawyers will act in the next 10 days to bring E. L. Doherty, his son, E. L. Doherty, Jr., and former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to trial on an indictment charging bribery in connection with the $100,000 little brown satchel transaction of Nov. 20, 1921.

Owen J. Roberts, prosecution leader of the cases resulting from the Teapot Dome senate investigation, told the United Press today he would ask the District of Columbia supreme court to call up the demurrers lodged against the indictments, for argument within the next 30 days.

The defendants' demurrers charge the indictments are illegal. If the court quashes them on Roberts' request, Allee Pomerene and Roberts will seek to bring the three men to trial here this summer.

Six Day Bike Race Returns

Philadelphia—Overton Tremper, Brooklyn, outfielder on the Pennsylvania varsity baseball team, was elected captain to succeed Paster Fields who has signed with the New York Giants.

3 LEADING BANKS
OF PALM BEACH
CLOSE THEIR DOORS

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 8.—(UP)—Three leading banks of the Palm Beaches closed their doors this morning and started one of the most frenzied runs in the history of Florida finance.

Mid-day found streets jammed with depositors seeking to save their money by withdrawing it from remaining banks of the city.

Runs on the Farmers' bank and the Citizens' bank of West Palm Beach were such that an armored car was dispatched from Miami bearing cash for panicky depositors.

No sooner had the First American bank and Trust Co. posted notice that business was suspended for the protection of depositors than two other institutions closed—the Northwood bank and Trust Co. of West Palm Beach, and the First bank and Trust Co. of Palm Beach.

Heavy withdrawals on all three banks during the past eight or ten months and unsettled conditions of affairs in this part of the state were given as reasons for the closings.

U. S. SEN. SCHALL
PREPARING TO FIGHT
BACK CHARGES

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—(UP)—U. S. Senator Thomas D. Schall, (rep. Minn.,) in Washington today prepared to return to St. Paul to fight back against charges of corruption.

Schall has notified State Senator W. A. Blanchard, of Anoka, chairman of the rules committee, that he will be present Monday when the committee opens the inquiry ordered after A. N. Jacobs, of Minneapolis, who contends he was Schall's manager in the 1924 campaign, had appeared before it at a secret meeting.

ITCHING ECZEMA
DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist.

peared before it at a secret meeting.

The blind senator already has struck his first blow. Minnesota daily newspapers received copies of a lengthy general denial by Schall of the charges against him.

Blanchard has received blank subpoenas to be used in summoning such witnesses as the committee wishes to hear.

IF BACK HURTS
FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty of Water and Take a Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. —Advt.
